

FRANK P. WEBER
SENIOR EXECUTIVE SERVICE
Deputy Director for Logistics and Business Operations
United States Transportation Command

Mr. Frank P. Weber is Deputy Director for Logistics and Business Operations (TCJ4-D), United States Transportation Command (USTRANSCOM), Scott Air Force Base, Ill. He is responsible for the formulation of traffic management and transportation logistics concepts and programs, and integrated business analysis and strategies for the Defense Transportation System. He oversees the development of transportation-related programs, policies and doctrine to ensure coordinated transportation operations among USTRANSCOM, its component commands, and other agencies in peace and war.

Mr. Weber entered Federal Civil Service in 1975 as a transportation management career intern with Headquarters, Military Traffic Management Command (MTMC). At MTMC he served in various assignments culminating as command analyst for DOD and Army deployment programs. In 1983 he served briefly as a strategic mobility planner in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Logistics (DCSLOG), Headquarters, Department of Army. He then began serving in various positions within the Mobilization Division, Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Operations and Plans (DCSOPS), Headquarters, Department of Army. From 1990 to 1992, he served as Chief, Mobilization Division with oversight responsibility for the development and implementation of Army mobilization policy and guidance. In February 1992, Mr. Weber was appointed to the U.S. Air Force Senior Executive Service and assigned to USTRANSCOM as the Deputy Director for Plans and Policy (TCJ5-V). He assumed his current position in June 1997.

Mr. Weber is married to the former Barbara Burnley of Pleasantville, N.J. They have three daughters: Kristen, Keri and Lindsay.
